

FINDING HOPE: Community Suicide Prevention A Free Community Training

The Idaho Lives Project, in partnership with SPAN Idaho and the State Department of Education, is pleased to bring youth support and suicide prevention training to Idaho communities statewide.

Please join your fellow community members for this important discussion.

Training open to adults only.
No registration necessary.

You will learn

- how to recognize and respond to suicide warning signs in youth and adults
- how to talk to those in crisis and refer them to help
- why people die by suicide
- what suicide looks like in Idaho

If you require special accommodations, need to sign up for child care or need more information, contact Katie Walker at kwalker@idaholives.org or SPAN Idaho at info@spanidaho.org or 208-860-1703.

Contact Debbie Flaming at Homedale High School if you have any questions.
(208) 337-4613 ext.224 dflaming@homedaleschools.org

- what is true and false about suicide
- what to tell youth about suicide
- what resources are available to assist those who need help
- about a youth wellness program that is coming to your community

There will be a community training in your area on the following date:

Friday, December 5th, 2014

Homedale High School
In the Cafeteria
10:30 a.m. to Noon

A lunch will be served at the conclusion of the training

203 E Idaho Avenue
Homedale, ID 83628